The San Bernardino County Twentynine Palms Branch Library located at 6078 Adobe Road, Twentynine Palms will be host a dedication of the new expansion and renovation on May 27th at 2:30p.m. First District Field Representative Mac Dube, Mayor Glenn Freshour and County Librarian Ed Kieczkowski will be on hand to welcome the community to the reopening of the facility.

Also on hand will be Little Church of the Desert's Pastor Charles Brown who will provide the invocation, high school student Luis Bryant who will perform a patriotic song and The Pledge of Allegiance will be lead by the Twentynine Palms Junior High School Cadet Corps.

The "facelift" was made possible by funding from Supervisor Bill Postmus, the County's allocation for ADA modifications to County buildings, the City of Twentynine Palms Community Development Block Grant Funds, the Friends of the Library and County Library funds. The refurbishing includes a new entrance and vestibule, new restrooms, new carpeting and paint and some new interior furnishings. Light refreshments will be served.
